Dādánast'ádā (How are all of you?),

Tiyā gújā ánīst'ā (I'm very good).

It's now Tútākā gútīshí ch'at'āghá (Water edges freeze month)! I hope you have your winter tires on!

November makes me excited because we are getting ready to start dressing up in our town clothes for when zas (snow) comes. It's time for boots, mitts and fancy winter coats.

It's Indigenous History Month as well as celebrating our First Nation and non-First Nation veterans, especially in Tsúūt'ínà. When I first started working in Communications, our first Elder interview for Dà-hí was with Isuu (Grandma) Dolly (Dorothy) Runner. She mentioned she worked in the military and shared a picture with us. As a woman, that was important for me to recognize her commitment as a Tsúūt'ínà woman and citizen. I learned a lot from her that day.

Then I learned about Harold, Teddy, Leonard, and Freddie. Later on, I was given more knowledge about our warriors prior to Treaty. It's important to know that our people have always contributed to the ways of the world, especially in protecting us and our inherent rights. I hope our young people will feel proud of those sacrifices and that we continue honouring the memory of all our warriors.

I also want to mention, as much as I love the cold weather, I implore anyone who can, to donate to any area that accepts coats, boots, jackets, snow-suits, and gloves. It's important that we remember how fortunate some of us are and that we can always buy these things. There are people and children who need help and anything counts. And of course, a prayer is always powerful.

Please read our issue for Tútākā gútīshí ch'at'āghá for important information, dates, opportunities, and birthday shoutouts. Our team has put together another beautiful newsletter for the community, by the community.

Nānīyīstsónī (See you again)!

NEW PAYROLL AND TIMEKEEPING SYSTEM

Tsuut'ina Nation is Modernizing How We Manage Time and Pay

Tsuut'ina Nation is taking another important step forward in modernizing how we work and support our people.

Beginning January 1st 2026, the Nation will transition to a new Payroll and Timekeeping System called UKG. After more than 30 years on our previous system, this upgrade marks a major milestone in improving accuracy, efficiency, and accountability across all departments.

UKG will help ensure that employee time, pay, and leave are managed in one secure, reliable, and easy-to-use system. This change supports faster, more accurate payroll and provides staff with better access to their information, helping the Nation serve its members and employees with greater transparency and consistency.

Training and support will be provided to all departments in the weeks ahead to ensure a smooth transition.

This initiative reflects Tsuut'ina Nation's ongoing commitment to modern systems, good governance, and continuous improvement in how we serve our community.

Walmart Canada Announced as First Anchor Tenant in Taza Park West, one of North America's Most Significant First Nation Developments

Major milestone marks beginning of large-scale retail growth within Taza – located in Tsuut'ina Nation, Alberta

Calgary, Alberta – October 28, 2025 – Ushering in a pivotal chapter in the evolution of Taza Park West, Walmart Canada is confirmed as the first major anchor tenant of the landmark 1,200-acre development, led in partnership between Tsuut'ina Nation and Canderel.

The new Taza Walmart Supercentre is expected to open in 2027 and will serve as the primary grocery and general merchandise retailer in Taza Park, expanding access to fresh food, household essentials, and everyday convenience for surrounding communities. As Taza Park's first large-format retail offering, this development signals growing momentum in the region's transformation into a vibrant urban hub.

"The arrival of Walmart Canada represents a major milestone in the realization of our shared vision for Taza," said James Robertson, President of Taza Development Corporation. "It affirms the strength of our partnership with Tsuut'ina Nation and the momentum we've built together. More than just a retailer, our collaboration with Walmart Canada is a foundational piece in shaping a connected, accessible, and economically diverse community that welcomes everyone."

"As we expand our footprint across the country through our landmark $6.5 billion investment in Canada over the next five years, we're proud to be part of this historic development in Tsuut'ina Nation," said Paula Bonner, VP Format Development, Walmart Canada. "We're looking forward to bringing local jobs and everyday low prices to this community."

Taza will begin work on-site this fall, with Walmart Canada construction beginning in 2026. In addition to serving as a retail anchor, the project will contribute to job creation during both construction and ongoing operations—bringing employment opportunities to residents of Tsuut'ina Nation, the surrounding Calgary area, and beyond.

This announcement adds to a series of recent milestones for Taza. More than 50 businesses have already opened in Taza Park and Buffalo Run, with more announcements to come. Residential construction is also underway, with homes from Brookfield Residential, Crystal Creek Homes, and Homes by Avi.

GUIDED BY ELDERS. BUILDING TOGETHER.

Weekly Elder talks help to shape Taza's path. In October, we hosted a milestone gathering at the Taza Park Sales & Marketing Centre—underscoring open dialogue, shared learning, and our 50/50 partnership rooted in Tsuut'ina values.

Every Wednesday, our Director of Tsuut'ina Relations, Randy Dodginghorse, meets with Elders to share updates and listen. These conversations keep Taza grounded in community values and guided by traditional knowledge.

Wednesday, October 22, 2025, marked a first: Tsuut'ina Elders visited the Taza Park Sales & Marketing Centre. The space came alive with a Q&A with the project team, a shared lunch, and time to explore the Centre. Elders viewed the latest video fly-throughs and offered thoughtful guidance on development, boundaries, and community safety.

These sessions are a cornerstone of open dialogue and transparency. Elders ask important questions and share perspectives that help to shape our work, ensuring Taza's growth reflects the Nation's priorities.

As Randy often says, staying informed and involved matters. Our relationship with the Tsuut'ina Nation is built on trust, collaboration, and a shared vision for long-term prosperity. By listening to our Elders, we strengthen that foundation—and move forward together.

Remembrance Day 2025

November 11th, 2025

LEST WE FORGET

To recognize Remembrance Day and Native American Heritage Month, we want to celebrate and honour all the Tsúūt'ínà Veterans who fought and sacrificed for freedom. Remember each year to wear a poppy, attend a service, or take a moment to remember those who we lost for a better future.

A service happened on November 11th, at the Chief Joseph Big Plume Administration Building Veterans Hall, started at 10 AM, to remember the Veterans from Tsúūt'ínà. Sīyísgààs and lest we forget.

WE WILL REMEMBER THEM.

Brief Tsúūt'ínà Military History

Read More at: www.tsuutina.com/our-history/

1910 - Land on the Tsúūt'ínà Nation (Reserve) was used by the Military for the first time, over three days of summer training maneuvers.

1914 - World War I began. Dr. J.V. Follett replaced L.D. McGill as Indian Agent. Lands were surrendered for grazing leases. A new boarding school was erected.

1914-1916 - Camp Sarcee was established by the Canadian Military on lands leased from the Tsúūt'ínà Nation First Nation.

1918 - Spanish flu spread across many tribes, mainly through the distribution of infected army blankets previously used by soldiers. As a result, the population was reduced to just 164.

1921 - Dr. Thomas Murray arrived to observe the school and was appalled at the conditions. He mandated better food, separated the sick children from the healthy, and started a vaccination program to rid the Reserve of tuberculosis outbreaks. The Department of Indian Affairs agrees to a 100-year military lease on lands in the northeast corner of the Reserve. The previously unspoilt land was deemed unsuitable for any use other than military training due to the damage caused.

1939 - World War II began. Harold Crowchild & Teddy Manywounds were enlisted overseas; Dolly Runner, Leonard Crane, & Fred Eagletail were in service too.

1942 - Private Teddy Manywounds, RCSAC, died of pulmonary tuberculosis on 19/02/1942, in the Canadian General Hospital, Colehill, Warwickshire, U.K. He is buried in grave 36F6 of the Brookwood Military Cemetery, Surrey, UK.

1945 - War hero Harold Crowchild returns from Europe. But, as many enlisted First Nations, he was denied government benefits for his refusal to enfranchise.

Disability Employment Awareness Month Workshop

October 24th, 2025

Tsúut'ínà Nation, in partnership with the Alberta Employment First Network, hosted a disability employment workshop at the Grey Eagle Hotel. The day-long event covered a number of topics about navigating disability employment issues.

Tough, but productive conversations were had about the current provincial landscape for working people with disabilities and some of the emerging troubles they face today. Sīyísgáàs to the presenters and all those who attended.

Nation Information Session

October 27th, 2025

Acting Head Chief and Minor Chiefs held a Nation Information Session for Tsúūt'ínà Citizens at the Grey Eagle Resort & Casino Event Centre. The Information Session was facilitated by Minor Chief Regina Crowchild, and the day began with breakfast, drummers, an opening prayer by Elder Charlie Crowchild, and opening remarks from Acting Xakiji Andy Onespot Sr.

During the session, financial updates on the BMO Capital Trust and Minor Trust, introduction of the Tsúūt'ínà Finance team, the 2024 – 2025 Financial Statements, and audit results were given. The Tsúūt'ínà Legal Department provided an update on the Tsúūt'ínà Water Claim litigation. These sessions are to ensure community engagement outcomes, financial transparency, and to convey vital information on the Water Claim update. Siyisgaas to everyone who attended.

Eagle's Flight: The Cauldron

October 2025

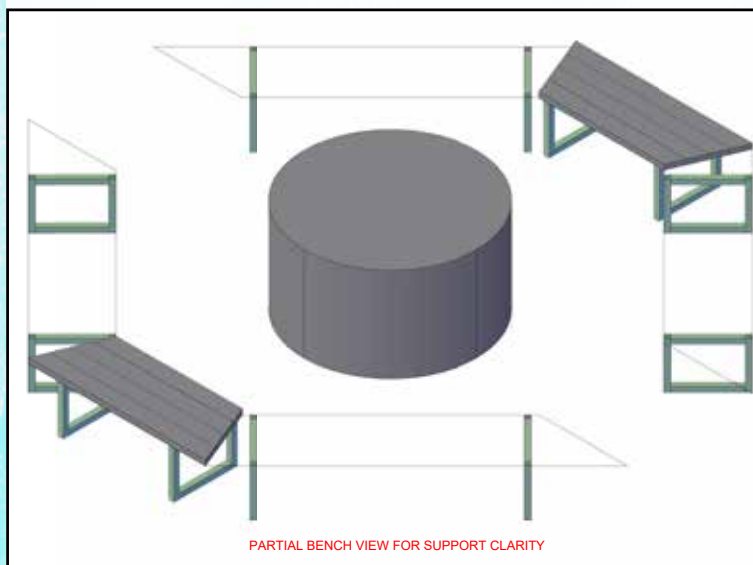

Eagle's Flight is a cauldron celebrating the unifying Special Olympics Canada experience and its inspirational athletes, while paying homage to Indigenous wisdom. Resembling a soaring eagle above a mountain, it symbolizes how love can empower people to achieve inspiring dreams.

The three mountain tiers feature the Games' branding, the eight Special Olympics Canada winter sports, and the seven animals representing each Indigenous grandfather teaching. These form the foundation for living inclusively and respectfully. The bowl holding the Flame of Hope is shaped like an eagle, which symbolizes love, and is the embodiment of dreams taking flight.

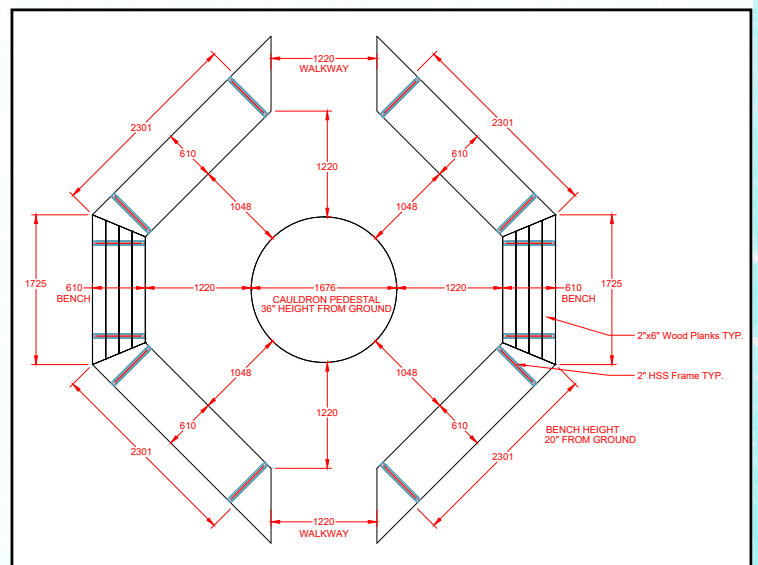

Eagle's Flight was designed by TC Energy employees and fabricated in collaboration with Boom Construction and Tsúūt'ínà Nation partners using 85 per cent recycled materials. The cauldron was gifted for use at the Special Olympics Canada Winter Games Calgary 2024, which were held Feb. 27-March 2, 2024.

MAKING ART 4 FUN!

Written by Chris Elser

As a creative person who does graphic design for a living, I sometimes forget what makes something "good". It can be easy to get caught up in all the grids, guides, color theory, font rules, trends, and the perfectionist mindset when designing.

Whenever I get into a creative slump, I like to remind myself that making things is supposed to be fun! I would like to share with everyone some art that I made and remind you just to have fun and make whatever your heart tells you to make.

And hey, if this inspires you to make new art, or share some old works of yours, please send them to submissions@tsuutina.com!

Thank you, Hihi, Siyisgaas

CANON AE-1 PROGRAM

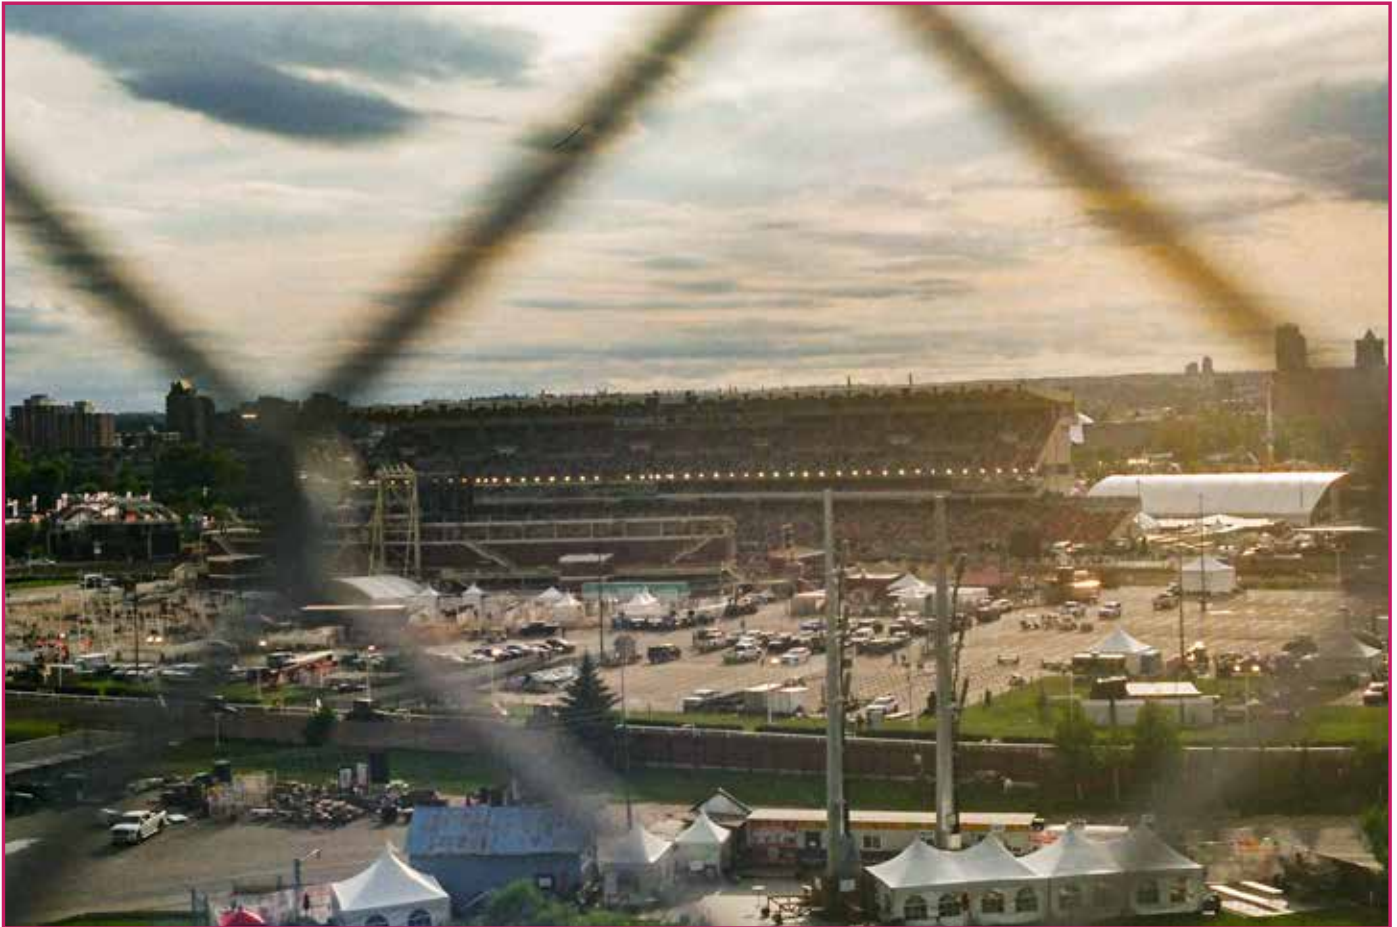

Written by Ryan Running Rabbit

Film photography hasn't been as popular as it is right now for decades. For beginners and pros, it's a great way to slow down and really focus on the actual photo part of making pictures. Let's be honest, the photos and vintage cameras just look really good.

However, choosing a camera that's right for you can be incredibly challenging. There are so many to choose from, and they all do different things; it can be incredibly overwhelming for a newcomer to film. I've used a number of different 35mm cameras, and I won't be the first or last to tell you that the Canon AE-1 Program is a fantastic place to start or even stay. I could use this camera system as my primary 35mm option every day and be more than happy with it.

Depending on your age, users will instantly recognize the shutter sound when firing the camera for the first time. The iPhone and iPod touch camera sounds are borrowed from this very model. Sounds and looks aside, the Canon AE-1 Program offers a few settings that are familiar to both phone and digital camera users. Automation, not fully automatic, of course, users will still have to focus the camera manually. Through a series of options, users can set the camera to "Shutter Priority" or "Program". I won't dive deep into operational specifics there are plenty of guides. Speaking of guides, this specific model blew up among influencers and hobbyists as the premier beginner option. This means there is a ton of new support and content to help steer you along your new film journey.

In addition to being well supported by modern creators, the camera sold millions of units and FD lenses. This means there is something for everyone out there to use the camera as they please.

If you've been reading the reviews in the Dà-hí, then you'll know I'm a Disney adult, so this month I'm excited to review Disney pin trading. Pin trading started at Walt Disney World in October 1999 and came to Disneyland in 2000.

I have been learning about Disney pin trading from YouTube and Instagram videos made by some Disney content creators. Some Disney pins are rarer than others, and they have become a popular collectible. There are open edition pins, limited edition pins, mystery pins, Hidden Mickey pins and many others increasing in rarity. In the mornings at Disneyland and Walt Disney World, people meet in specific areas of the parks to show off their collections, complete collections, and trade pins with fellow traders. Hidden Mickey pins are special pins as they can only be found on pin trading boards and on cast members' lanyards, making these pins even rarer. I enjoy watching the content creators collect their pins and find the rare ones that they are looking for.

Disney Pin Trading

Written by Nicole Adams

On my recent trip to Disneyland, I was able to see what pin trading is really like there. Pin trading boards were relatively empty, but in Frontierland on a Saturday morning, the traders were out and had amazing collections of pins of all kinds to see.

Trading with cast members was the best part of the pin trading experience, as they had more unique movie and character pins than the boards. This year, 2025, is the 25th Anniversary of pin trading in Disneyland, and the hobby appears to be alive and well. Additionally, 2025 is the Celebrate Happy Celebration, for the 70th Anniversary of Disneyland. So they decided to celebrate both occasions by creating a magic key which contains a special mystery pin. It is unlocked by activating the key in all ten lands inside Disneyland.

I could spend hours of my life watching people collect and trade pins. I also really enjoy watching people participate in the Disney pin trading world. They are an easy and entertaining watch to relax or put in the background while gaming. If this sounds like something you'd enjoy, I recommend watching @PINcessShannon, @The_Figment_Guy, @MeganTheMagicalMillennial_, and @Summmerlyyy.

Samwon Garden K-BBQ

Written by Carmen Littlelight

Let me just say that I had been wondering about this place since it opened, then I finally went for my birthday with a school friend, and it was phenomenal! It's a Korean (of course) Buffet BBQ restaurant. Once you order drinks, the staff will heat up the grill, then you go through the buffet line, all you can eat, and then cook your own food. Grilling meat is always fun for me, so if that's something you're into, check it out. I can't say if there are a lot of vegetarian options, but they have lettuce to make veggie wraps with other vegetable side dishes, and of course, rice.

I highly recommend the sweet cheese corn if you can eat cheese or have dairy medication. It comes in a little tin bowl, then you heat it up on the grill till the cheese melts. It's so delicious. I'm definitely going back!

November Submissions

A big shoutout to our Crowchild family. Pearl, Hine, Corbin and Nidaan Crowchild, who competed in the New York Marathon on Sunday, November 2nd, 2025.

Their hard work of 26.2 miles (42 km) was tough but worth the hard work. They trained through spring and summer weather conditions, highs and lows, along with injuries, but they all prevailed to cross that finish line. Pearl ran her 20th marathon, Hine, Corbin, and Nidaan ran their very first major marathon!

We are all so proud of their accomplishments; they put Tsúūt'ínà on the map in 2025.
