▲▲ THE FLOOD ▼▼

In the first days, a great flood covered the world with water old man however, had made a raft on which he had gathered mankind and all the different birds and animals. He sent the birds one by one down into the water to bring him back a little earth, but not one of them could reach the bottom. Finally he sent T'asklafa, a small swamp bird that has a red ring around each eye. Three times it dived, each time it grew tired before it would reach the bottom and float back to the surface. Old man then told it to try harder. It dived for a fourth time, and just as it was dying, seized a little earth in its claws. When its body floated to the surface, Old man removed the speck of dirt from its claws and laid it on a board. He then breathed life back into it so that it could swim away. After that, he called the killdeer and said, "you are a swift runner, race around the speck of earth".

The bird ran round and round, and as it ran the earth grew bigger and bigger, floating on the surface of the water while the bird ran around its edge. Old Man ordered Killdeer to run all its life, and when it grew old, to let its son take up the race and after that its grandson, then its great grandson. Then at last, the race should end. As soon as the earth became Large again, Old Man disembarked all the animals, including man. Thus, the world was re-made after the flood.

Tsuut'ina Nation Property Taxation

DIDILI GWANAT'SI LAHA BULLETIN

Introduction

As of December 2018, the Nation has updated its Property Taxation System. The Tsuut'ina Nation Property Taxation Law, 2018 and the Tsuut'ina Nation Property Assessment Law, 2018 were enacted by Chief and Council in December 2018 and then approved by the First Nation Tax Commission. Now that Chief and Council have approved these laws, 2019 will be the first year that property taxes will be assessed and collected using the new Laws.

A copy of the laws may be obtained from the Nation's Office and online - from the First Nations Gazette website (www.fng.ca).

This bulletin is intended to provide a general information to help Tsuut'ina Citizens understand the key elements of the Tsuut'ina Property Taxation laws and operations. It will also provide answers to some frequently asked questions related to tax exemptions, setting mill rates and using the revenue collected through property taxation.

This information is intended as a guide only and may change as amendments to the Laws occur.

Coming Into Force: December 18, 2018

GOVERNANCE & ADMINISTRATION

Tsuut'ina Nation Property Tax Bulletin

Background

What is property tax?

Property tax is a tax on real property. Real property consists of land and the improvements on the land (i.e. buildings, towers, pipelines, etc.). It does not include things like automobiles, furniture, and other personal possessions. Property tax should not be confused with other forms of taxation such as GST and income taxes.

Why do we need property taxes?

Property taxes are the oldest form of taxation created by governments. Most local governments rely on property taxes to generate most of their revenue to maintain infrastructure and to support programs and services for taxpayers.

Updating the property taxation system in 2018 will now allow Tsuut'ina to:

- Start collecting property tax dollars from companies, such as Costco and Superstore that already expressed interest in Tsuut'ina Land
- Ensure that the Nation does not have to spend its own money to support the infrastructure required for the Taza development (Zone 2)
- Attract more investments and economic development by giving investors the confidence that they will receive services comparable to Calgary
- Improve infrastructure and amenities for the development

Where are we now with property taxation?

Tsuut'ina is not new to property taxation and has been taxing linear properties, such as pipelines and power lines and telecommunication systems, that go through reserve lands, since 1977.

However, the 1977 property taxation bylaws implemented under the Indian Act was out-of-date and did not provide the necessary legislative framework to support taxation of commercial properties within the Taza development (Zone 2).

Now that the Nation has approved its new property taxation laws under the First Nations Fiscal Management Act (FMA), it can start assessing and collecting property taxes under these new laws in 2019.

Ratifying the laws under FMA does not prevent Tsuut'ina from implementing its own taxation legislation in the future when a Tsuut'ina Nation Constitution is in place

The graphics below describes key steps the Nation took since 2014 to develop the new property taxation legislation:

GOVERNANCE & ADMINISTRATION

Tsuut'ina Nation Property Tax Bulletin

Tsuut'ina Property Taxation System

What are Zone 1 and Zone 2?

To administer the Property Taxation System, the Nation has established two Taxation Zones:

- Zone 1 – encompasses the vast majority of the reserve, where all Citizen residences are located
- Zone 2 – surrounds the Ring Road corridor where Taza development is happening

Zone 1 will not be impacted by property taxation, everything within Zone 1 will stay the same.

Will Nation Citizen residences be exempt from property taxation?

Yes.

All Nation Citizens' primary residences will be exempt throughout the entire Tsuut'ina Reserve (both Zone 1 and Zone 2). The only exception is when a Nation Citizen owns a rental property in Zone 2, which is not their primary residence and is used to generate income. In such case this "income property" will be taxed.

Will Nation Citizen-owned businesses be exempt from property taxation?

All businesses owned by Nation Citizens located in Zone 1 will be exempt.

However, all businesses in Zone 2, except for Nation-owned businesses, will pay the property tax. This approach is consistent with all other Nations currently administering a Property Tax System. It prevents situations where outside businesses create corporations with the Nation Citizens for a sole purpose of evading taxes.

While there will be no rebates and tax exemptions for Citizen-owned businesses in Zone 2, the Nation is planning to explore the implementation a Small Business Grant program specifically for Nation Citizens in the future – outside of the taxation department.

GOVERNANCE & ADMINISTRATION

Who will administer our property taxes?

The Property Tax Department (Didili Gwanat'si Laha) will remain within the Nation, and its authority will flow directly from the Nation.

Didili Gwanat'si Laha will be under the Finance Department and report to the Executive Director of Finance on a day-to-day basis. The Tax Department will be comprised of three people:

- 1) Tax Administrator, will be hired to manage the property taxation system, including taxpayer relations, property tax collection, and the enforcement of payment under the law
- 2) Tax Coordinator responsible for preparation and distribution of property tax notices and administering all property tax accounts
- 3) Administrative Assistant providing clerical and administrative support for Didili Gwanat'si Laha (to be hired at a later date)

While the Tax Department will be responsible for all aspects of administering property tax, the property assessment function will be performed by a qualified independent assessor. Hiring a qualified independent assessor is a common practice among First Nations across Canada and provides reassurance to taxpayers that their property is being valued fairly, while also keeping operating costs lower for the Nation.

There will also be an independent Assessment Review Board responsible for resolving complaints against the assessment of properties. The Assessment Review Board will meet only when an official complaint is filed.

Tsuut'ina Nation Property Tax Bulletin

? How does property taxation work?

Property taxation on Tsuut'ina Nation Lands will be completed in annual cycles. While the timing of these cycles may vary slightly by province or territory, the main elements are consistent across Canada and consist of a number of stages. The diagram below provides the general overview of the taxation cycle.

By harmonizing taxation and assessment practices with other communities across Canada, Tsuut'ina will provide confidence to taxpayers and investors, attracting high quality businesses to its development.

? How are the property tax rates set?

Tsuut'ina Chief and Council will approve property tax rates (also known as mill rates) every year through Rate and Expenditure Laws and submit them to the First Nations Tax Commission for validation. The tax rates will be recommended by the Tax Administrator based on budgetary requirements for service delivery in Zone 2. The Tax Administrator will also ensure that the tax rates at Tsuut'ina are competitive with Calgary's tax rates.

? Where does the property tax revenue go?

All money collected from taxpayers in Zone 2 will also be spent to provide services in Zone 2. These services include administrative expenses and things like water and sewer, police, fire protection, garbage collection, road and lighting improvements, parks, recreation and cultural facilities. There will be also two reserve funds established:

- A Contingency Fund – to cover unforeseen operating costs in providing Zone 2 services
- A Capital Fund – for capital infrastructure improvement and replacement

Under the FMA, property tax budgets must be balanced (i.e. expenditures must equal revenues) and the property tax revenue MUST be placed in a separate bank account and managed separately from other Nation's revenue.

Note: Since property tax doesn't apply to Zone 1, services in Zone 1 will continue to be funded by Tsuut'ina's already established revenue sources.

GOVERNANCE & ADMINISTRATION

Tsuut'ina Nation Property Tax Bulletin

If the property tax dollars are spent only in Zone 2, what are the benefits for the Nation and Nation Citizens?

While the property Tax dollars will be in spent only in Zone 2, the Nation Citizens will benefit in the following ways:

- Nation Citizens will have access to improved amenities and infrastructure within the Taza development (Zone 2)
- The Nation will receive greater revenue from leases signed with higher-quality businesses
- There will be more employment opportunities generated for the Nation Citizens (in the Tax Department, Public Works etc.)
- Some money can be made available to support the Nation's governance priorities
- The Nation does will not have spend its own money for the development

What is the difference between property taxation in Redwood Meadows and Zone 2?

Property taxes on homes in Redwood Meadows are being collected by the municipal office of the Townsite of Redwood Meadows according to the 1988 agreement between the Townsite of Redwood Meadows and Sarcee Developments Ltd., a wholly owned Tsuut'ina company. All property tax revenue goes to the Townsite of Redwood Meadows and is used to provide basic services, such as road maintenance and snow removal.

Unlike in Redwood Meadows, the Nation will have a full control over collecting property taxes and delivering all local services within Zone 2.

When will the Nation start taxing?

All lots must have a connection to power lines, finished roads, curbs, drainage and sewer services. Once all these types of services are constructed, the lots will be known as 'serviced lots'.

The Nation has been assessing and collecting property taxes since 1977. Now that the Property Taxation and Property Assessment Laws have been approved, the Nation can assess and collect property taxes under these new laws for the 2019 tax year.

5 Ways To Use Spinach!

Spinach is a great way to add vitamins and iron to your meals and snacks. Maybe you've got it growing in your garden, receive it in your Guja market bag or buy it from the grocery store. Don't let it go to waste! Here are 5 ways to use it...

Smoothies

Many kids have started eating their greens because of this delicious smoothie!

In a blender add:

- 2 bananas
- 1 can pineapple
- 3 cups spinach
- 1 cup yogurt (optional)
- 1 cup ice
- Water to thin

Pizzas

Spinach adds color and nutrients to pizza. Just make sure to wilt the spinach in the microwave or in a pan on the stove before putting on your pizza.

Try pizza with spinach, olives, feta cheese, bacon or your favorite toppings!

Sandwiches

Spinach is a great vegetable to add into sandwiches because it doesn't transfer moisture into the bread and adds a little bit of crunch. Try on a sandwich with roast beef, cheddar cheese and mustard!

Omelettes

Add spinach in to the pan for a couple minutes to wilt. Then add the egg, cheese and other cooked veggies.

Salads

Spinach is a soft leafy green that makes a great salad! It holds dressing well and doesn't get too soggy. You can keep it simple and just add grapes and cubed cheese with your favorite dressing!
