◀ ▶ Old Man eats the children ▶ ▶

Xalitsa-tsina (Old Man the un-respected one) in his wanderings came to a camp of ten women, each of who had one child. He asked the women if they were hungry, and when they said, "Yes," he told them, "I have killed a deer over there. Tie your children up and go get it". The women left. One woman was suspicious of him and threw her child outside the teepee before she went to go get the deer. While they were away, Xalitsa-tsina cut off all the childrens heads, except one, that was thrown out of the teepee. He put their heads in a moss bag and cooked their bodies. The women returned and told him, "There was no meat up there". Xalitsa-tsina said, "Was there nothing?" "Well, I have just killed a deer and I am boiling it for you to eat. All the children have gone to sleep". He left them and climbed a hill. The women began to eat the meat. He told the women, "Women, you are eating your own children". They sprang up and searched for their children. They only found the heads in the moss bags. And then, they started pursuing Old Man and had nearly overtaken him when he disappeared down a hole. After a time, he flew out again as a fly. He went back to the camp and changed to a man again. He walked up the hill to where the women were still digging the hole. He went over to them. He asked "The Old man killed our children. We ate them because he told us that it was deer meat. The he disappeared down the hole". Xalitsa-tsina took a stick and poked down the hole. He put his head into the hole. When he stuck his head in the hole, he punched himself in the nose to make it bleed. He rubbed the blood on the end of his stick. His stick had blood on the end. He held it out towards them and said, "See I have killed him". The women went home.

Statement of Support and Solidarity with the Sipekne'katik Mi'kmaw Nation

The Tsuut'ina Nation Chief and Council and the Tsuut'ina Nation stand in solidarity with the Sipekne'katik Mi'kmaw Nation in their struggle to uphold their sovereign and constitutionally-protected Treaty right to obtain a moderate livelihood from their traditional territories free from harassment, discrimination, and undue hardship. We also condemn the violent, dishonorable, and racist actions of the non-Indigenous fisherman in the area who have, through their efforts, demonstrated a blatant disregard for the rights, safety, and dignity of the Sipekne'katik Mi'kmaw Peoples who have occupied their traditional territories since time immemorial.

On September 17, 1999, the Supreme Court issued the Marshall decision, which affirmed the Mi'kmaw Nation's Treaty right to hunt, fish, and gather in pursuit of a "moderate livelihood" that arose from the Peace and Friendship Treaties of 1760 and 1761. As Treaty People, we support the Sipekne'katik Mi'kmaw Nation's sovereign right to define what a moderate livelihood means to them. We also support all Indigenous Nations' rights to cover their jurisdiction and define Section 35 rights following their collective understandings and their Treaties' true spirit and intent. We call upon the Crown and Government of Canada to uphold and honour all Treaties under their true nature and intentions.

We strongly condemn the violent events that had taken place on the evening of Tuesday, October 13, 2020, and call upon the Royal Canadian Mountain Police to maintain peace and order as this situation unfolds while taking immediate action to hold individuals accountable for their violent and criminal acts. The RCMP can no longer stand by while the constitutionally protected rights of Indigenous Peoples are violated.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Hunting, Fishing and Harvesting

On September 15th, 2020, by Chief and Council Motion, “all hunting, fishing and harvesting by non-Nation Citizens shall be prohibited, unless permitted by Chief and Council in writing. Violators shall be prosecuted to the full extend of the law. This decision shall be communicated to Nation Citizens with an explanation as to why decision has been made.

Over the past few years, there has been an increase in complaints of hunting, fishing and harvesting of Non-Nation Citizens on the reserve lands.

- Non-Citizens have been overhunting and, in some cases, poaching has been reported on Nation Lands;
- The increase in the number of new homes throughout the Reserve has created safety concerns;
- There have been situations where non-Citizens have been caught hunting on Reserve without a Nation Citizen present and stated they were given permission under the Trespass Law, as only Chief and Council can invite non-Citizens onto Nation lands for this purpose;
- Nation Lands have been set aside for the benefit of Nation Citizens, which is why Chief and Council is taking the position that non-Citizens should not be able to access Nation lands for hunting, fishing and harvesting;
- Chief and Council acknowledges that there are non-Citizens who do hunt, fish and harvest to support a Nation household. In those situations, Chief and Council may be willing to grant an exemption to September 15, 2020 Motion, on a case-by-case basis. However, any interested parties must meet with the Nation and be given written authorization by the Nation, before using Nation lands to hunt, fish or harvest.

Step 5 in Addiction Recovery

In previous posts, we outlined the preceding steps to addiction recovery:

- Step 1 – admitting you have a substance use problem
- Step 2 – finding support
- Step 3 – safely detoxing from the substance
- Step 4 – Early sobriety and Post-Acute Withdrawal Syndrome

Step 5 involves finding → NEW ROUTINES

New lifeways and new routines are part of the longer term recovery process. Replacing addiction patterns is best done when you surround yourself with sober support.

It can start with → Simple, health promoting routines.

Healthy sleep and wakefulness patterns

- Do you have some sleep problems? Try these ideas to get yourself into regular, healthful and restorative sleep
  - Go to bed to sleep and get up at the same time everyday – even on days when you are not working or don't have a task to do
  - Keep the same activity routines every day
  - Train your brain to routine -- try relaxation activities like a warm bath, checking in with friends on the phone or reading at the same time each day
  - Avoid caffeine in the evenings (coffee, tea, chocolate)
  - Avoid screen time (TV, Phone, computers, ipads) after 8 or 9pm to sleep by 10 or 11 – the bright screens can alter the natural sleepy chemicals released in the brain – think of a bear hibernating, it gets sleepier with the days are shorter and the light decreases – this is the same for people – AVOID bright lights when you want to sleep

Healthy water intake and nutrition

- Keep yourself hydrated and give your body healthy food

Exercise and keep active

- Outdoor and indoor activities can help your body to heal and become healthier
- Keep a routine when you are active during the daylight hours
- Maybe start to tidy your house or garden in a routine fashion

Develop activity patterns that do not involve drinking or using substance

- Getting outdoors with other people
- Plan activities that do not involve substance with sober friends
- Keep aware of community events and involve yourself if you can
- Learn something new – relaxation techniques (more on this next time)

Plan time to relax - do something you love to do. Do you miss something you did before substance took over?

Seek ongoing support for your recovery – recovery is a process – it occurs over time

- Maybe a peer support program like AA or NA? <https://calgaryaa.org/meetings/>
- Maybe seek out a friend who has a good amount of recovery time?
- Maybe it is about reconnecting with your community or a special family member?
